Crazy Train

Type: Train Wreck X Trinity X Purple Urkle X Space Queen (50% Sativa 50% Indica)

Description: Space Queen provides an underlying fruit smell that rounds the cross out. The cross matures very fast showing milky resin heads at day 45 of flowering. Buds are spear shaped with a good calyx to leaf ratio.

Flavor: Spicy, Skunky with an underlying Grape fuel that is deep and heavy also hints of Melon and Champagne

Effects: Very fast onset of a initially cerebral high shifting into a heavy stone with a narcotic effect at the end of the high.

Uses: This plant is strong and pleasant, very good for pain relief and relaxation. In addition, this plant is good for treating body pain.

Pandora's Box

Type: Jack the Ripper X Space Queen (85% Sativa 15%Indica)

Description: This plant produces huge glass like buds and the buzz is up, speedy, and smiling like a Cheshire cat like high. It's a bit smoother than JTR and has a different feel in the head less haze influence.

Flavor: The fragrance of this strain is a tart is a tart lemon mixed with undertones of cherry and fruit punch. It taste like NL but it's very industrial with a slight citrus taste and a undertone of spice and hash.

Effects: Zooming, Happy, Grinning, anti depressant

White Widow

Type: South Indian X Brazilian Hybrid (Mostly Sativa)

Description: Setting the standard for kind bud, White Widow washes over you with a warm feeling of mildly trippy sensations.

Flavor: A blended scent of fruit and musky, putrid qualities — it hints at its potency with the smell. Its flavor is often times neutral or even hashy due to the high trichome count, the strain sometimes has a fruity, flowery bent.

Effects: Cerebral and uplifting effect, this strain is powerful and consistent. Though it keeps you mentally active and positive, it often comes with a strong couchlock tendency, especially later in the duration. If harvested late, this strain can be especially narcotic for a Sativa.

Uses: Anti-Convulsants, Appetite Stimulant, Arthritis, Chronic Pain, Depression, Multiple Sclerosis, Muscle Tension, Panic Attacks and Stress

Sweet Tooth

Type: Afghani x Nepalese x Hawaiian (90% Indica 10% Sativa)

Description: Sweet Tooth is famous for its incredibly high THC content and large yields. Sweet Tooth is the result of a long and rigorous breeding program. It grows medium tall with strong side branches that need room to grow. Buds develop in large sticky resinous colas.

Flavor: The taste like the smell is very light with a sweet candy like after taste that stays for a while.

Effects: Its effect is powerful, relaxing and cerebral.

Uses: Sweet Tooth is a candy-coated bomb to the senses, not recommended for daytime functionality, but terrific for inducing sleep, soothing pain or indulging in a languorous, mellow relaxation.

Shiva Skunk

Type: Sensi's Skunk X Northern Lights (Indica Dominate)

Description: Shiva Skunk is a potent, quick indica that has become popular with commercial growers. Very reliable and stable, this strain is hardly skunk and very Northern Lights in appearance.

Flavor: Shiva Skunk will yield sweet, spicy buds that give a psychedelically stoney buzz. A kaleidoscope and some Shiva Skunk is a recipe for hours of entertainment.

Effects: Promotes Extreme Relaxation while Promoting Happiness.

Uses: Anti-Inflammatories, Arthritis, Chronic Pain, Muscle Tension, OCD and Tension

Purple Indica

Type: Purple Urkle x Big Bud (Indica dominant)

Description: Purple strains are growing in popularity throughout the entire Cannabis community. Purple strains are frequently stocked in dispensaries because they are very fine strains that require attention to grow them to their full potential. Many purple strains are said to be more difficult to grow well and were bred for connoisseurs to work with and develop. Purple strains are said to have a focal flavor of grape that is nearly universal for all strains.

Flavor: Very smooth smoke, citrus, earthy flavor. This is organic, dirt grown medicine and is very easy on the throat.

Effect: Promotes Extreme Relaxation while enhancing ones Jovial Mood, may induce 'Couch Lock'

Uses: Anti-Inflammatory, Anxiety, Arthritis, Chronic Pain, Glaucoma, Insomnia, Menstrual Cramps, Muscle Tension, Nausea and Stress

Grape Ape

Type: Afghani x Skunk #1 (Indica Dominate Hybrid)

Description: Grape Ape has deep royal purple tones everywhere, which are contrasted by greens. Mostly cloudy thick heads, moderate trichome coverage (many of which were purple) and above-average density makes this a looker, maybe the prettiest purple strain we've had.

Flavor: Tasted mainly on the exhale, this was an almost saccharine sweetness... on the inhale it produced a strange and unique gingery taste. No real trace of the typical “purple” taste, which was a welcome change for us. The smoke was moderately harsh and caused some coughing, while the ash burned down to a medium gray.

Effect: Starting with a quick hit to the eyes and forehead, this strain worked it’s way into a heavily Indica feeling early on, with a strong body component that felt like pleasure waves shooting up and down the limbs.

Uses: General relaxation, body tension relief, mood elevation, anti-anxiety, possible sleep aid later in the day.

Kaboom

Type: Jacks Cleaner X Vortex (80% Sativa / 20% Indica) TGA

Description: With the creation of Vortex we had a new Apollo-13 Dominant line to cross to the F1 Jacks Cleaner Mom. The results are a perfect mix of the best traits of both parent strains. Large towering colas dripped in resin almost appear glass coated. Look for variation to lean towards both parents resulting in a nice mix to choose a mother plant that please your personal likes and dislikes.

Flavor: It develops deliciously and displays a variety of scents and flavors including tart lemon, spicy hash, sweet berries, sour pineapples and good ol' skunk.

Effects: Speedy, trippy, intense, motivating, pain relief

Uses: The high that results from smoking Kaboom medicinal cannabis is intense and fast paced, almost paranoid, but overall motivating. Kaboom marijuana also has enough Indica in it to make it very effective.

Death Star

Type: Sensi Star x NYC Diesel (Indica Dominant hybrid)

Description: Blizzard warning! Buds are completely covered in a thick coating of crystals. Very light green with orange hairs. It is extremely sticky!

Flavor: I would have to say this is one of the top three strongest smelling strains. Has an extremely strong diesel fuel smell mixed with a nose burning skunk aroma, tastes delicious! Has a very piney almost “kush” taste with hints of skunk, diesel fuel, fresh earth and a dash of fruit. Taste reminds me a lot of the tangerine kush taste.

Effects: Great for night time use. Tolerance is no match for the Death Star. Each pull from the volcano bag had my eyelids dropping like they had weights in them. Made me hungry sometimes, other times it did not. Too much of this strain and it’s an instant weed nap.

Uses: Instant euphoria! Excellent for pain relief and very little anxiety.

Hawaiian Banana

Type: Hawaiian X Haze (Sativa 80%/Indica 20%)

Description: Hawaiian Sativa has the instincts of a canopy dweller, competing to outgrow surrounding vegetation. Fully stabilized after nearly 30 years of breeding, this variety has been described as "Banana Hawaiian pot" because of her thick, curved buds. Buds have very wispy sativa-like hairs, and elongated calyxes, giving this plant more than the usual number of trichomes per square centimeter. In other words, resin galore.

Flavor: Hawaiian Sativa's citrus flavor and menthol tingle will go to your head.

Effects: Because the high leaves your brain wide-awake and functional, she's a good candidate for those who can freely take all day.

Uses: Hawaiian Sativa possesses analgesic properties that have increased its popularity among medical patients seeking pain relief. Anecdotal evidence suggests that Hawaiian Sativa provides good visual ocular release, making it a preferred variety for glaucoma patients.
